

Library Bill of Rights, Article VII

All people, regardless of origin, age, background, or views, possess a right to privacy and confidentiality in their library use. Libraries should advocate for, educate about, and protect people's privacy, safeguarding all library use data, including personally identifiable information.

Endorsed by the Committee on Professional Ethics and the Intellectual Freedom Round Table.