The American Library Association and the American Association of School Librarians are joining Scholastic magazines in the sponsorship of a student poster contest on "What the Library Means to Me."

The contest will be conducted in four age categories: first through 3rd grade; 4th through 6th grade; 7th through 9th grade, and 10th through 12th grade.

Participants will be asked to illustrate in words and art those services offered by school and public libraries which they may find most important personally.

Announcement of the contest will be published in the September or October editions of the Scholastic student and teacher in-class magazines: Pilot, Ranger, Trails, Explorer, Newstime, Junior Scholastic, Senior Scholastic, Search, Voice, Scope and Art and Man.

One of the first place winners will be selected for use during National Library Week, April 1979. Other prizes will include savings bonds, books and records. In addition, teachers of the top winners will receive Scholastic filmstrips appropriate to the grade level.
