TO: Task Force to Evaluate the Newbery and Caldecott Awards Presentation) Celebration Experiment (Whew! What a name for a committee!)

From: Bette Postola (summer address)

The list with your names and addresses finally caught up with me on Monday. I've waited a few more days to write, hoping I would be able to tell you where we would meet. I still don't know, but please mark your calendar for Tuesday, July 13, 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. If I know long enough ahead, I'll send you the meeting room assignment. Otherwise, check with the ALSC desk in convention headquarters. I'll leave you notes there re: the meeting location.

I am getting some background material to share with you at the meeting. Each of you comes with some special point-of-view also - such as local committee, long time attendee, publishing.
Please be thinking about this, and talking with others, as you see fit, so that we can make a recommendation on Tuesday morning.
The Board finishes its meetings by 12:30 on Tuesday, so we ought to be ready by 11:30. Please be ready to state your ideas about the future presentation/celebrations, and we'll see what kind of agreements we can make to present to the Board. I'm sure you've all been thinking about this already. I have, too.

Leave any messages for me at the ALSC desk. I still don't have a hotel room so can't tell you where I'll be staying.

I'm looking forward to working with all of you.
