Dear Gene Sutherland,

Much as I enjoyed the traditional dinner banquet, for Newbery/Caldcott, changing times and economies might call for a new type of "celebration". The four discussion points listed in your letter make it only common sense.

My one suggestion would be to have it an evening meeting, auditorium type, with the awardees on stage or a dais, so that every one could greet them after the talks, if they so wanted.

The best of success to you in this project of our changing times!

Very sincerely
Margaret M. Clark
