FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Children's Services Division (CSD) of the American Library Association announced the winners of the Charles Scribner's Sons Award for 1977. The announcement was made at the ALA midwinter meeting in Washington, D.C., January 30 - February 5, 1977.

The winners are Margaret Anne Gore, Meridian (MS) Public Library; Harriet McClain, Silka (AK) School District; Evelyn L. Mott, Genessee (MI) School District; and Kay Taylor, Durham (NC) County Library.

The recipients will each receive $250 to enable them to attend the ALA annual conference in Detroit, June 17 - 23, 1977.

The Scribner's Award is given annually by CSD, with funds donated by Charles Scribner's Sons, to four librarians working with children--two in school libraries and two in public libraries.

Applicants must be CSD members, have less than five years working experience, and have never attended an ALA conference.

The CSD Scribner's Selection Committee was chaired by Diana Young of the North Carolina State Library. Other members were Crystal McNally, Wichita (KS) School District and Joanne Vanni, Seattle (WA) School District.
