The Association of College and Research Libraries, a division of the American Library Association, announces the selection of six interns to participate in the first year of its program for administrators of predominantly Black college and university libraries. The three-year program, funded by a grant from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, is intended to accelerate the development of the management ability of librarians in Black colleges and universities by providing them with experience in the administration of strong and progressive academic libraries.

Bernice L. Bell, Acting Assistant Director of Libraries and Acquisitions Librarian, Jackson State University, Jackson, Mississippi, and James R. Jarrell, Assistant Acquisitions Librarian, University of North Carolina at Greensboro, will intern with Herbert F. Johnson, Oberlin College. Jessie Cottman Smith, Director of Library Services, University of Maryland, Eastern Shore, Princess Anne, Maryland, is assigned to David C. Weber, Stanford University. Alma Z. McPherson, Librarian, Utica Junior College, Utica, Mississippi, will serve her internship with Richard A. Olsen, Rhode Island College. John S. Page, Jr., Senior Media Specialist, Federal City College, and Ida C. Adams, Assistant Director, University Libraries, Florida A. & M. University, will intern with Richard M. Dougherty, University of California, Berkeley.

During the period of the internship, the participants will receive salaries, benefits, and approved expenses from the Mellon Foundation grant. The host institutions will provide the training experience. Several workshops for the Six librarians to participate in Academic Library Internship Program participants are also planned.

Applications from librarians and host institutions were reviewed by the project's advisory committee, Virginia Lacy Jones, Atlanta University, Chairman.

Applications for the second year of the program are now being received. All inquiries should be addressed to the Project Director, Casper Jordan, Associate Professor, School of Library Service, Atlanta Georgia.
