Studs Terkel, author of Working, will speak at the Young Adult Services Division luncheon, on Thursday, July 11, during the Annual Conference of the American Library Association in New York City, July 7 - 13, 1974.

Studs Terkel's previous books Division Street: America and Hard Times have received international acclaim. Both were best sellers in the U.S. and have been translated into every Western language as well as Hungarian and Japanese. Mr. Terkel graduated from the University of Chicago and from the Chicago Law School. In a richly varied career, he has acted in radio soap operas, been a disk jockey, a sports commentator, a TV m.c. and has traveled throughout the world doing on-the-spot interviews.

Prior to the luncheon, at 10 a.m., in the Americana Hotel, Georgian Ballroom, the Young Adult Services Division of ALA, will sponsor a program "Present Shock, Youth in the Seventies". Part 1 - Issues, will feature speakers Frank Lima, administrator with SERA, bilingual drug rehabilitation center; Dr. Iris Litt, assistant director, Division of Adolescent Medicine, Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center; Esther P. Rothman, principal of Livingston School, author of The Angel Inside Went Sour; Piri Thomas author of Down These Mean Streets, and Savior, Savior Hold My Hand.

The second part of the "Present Shock" program will resume after the luncheon at 2 p.m. It will focus on Materials, and will feature Mary Louise Birmingham, editor of Books for Young Readers, Praeger Publishers; Isabelle Holland, author of Heads.
You Win, Tails I Lose; Lou Willott Staneck, assistant director of the English Master of Arts in teaching program, University of Chicago; and Barbara Wersba, author of The Dream Watcher, and Run Softly, Go Fast. A Membership Meeting will follow the program.

Tickets for the luncheon are $10.75 and will be available at the ALA Central Ticket Desk.

Studs Terkel, author of  Working, will participate in the Young Adult Services Division Luncheon, on Thursday, July 11, during the Annual Conference of the American Library Association in New York City, July 7 - 12, 1974.

Studs Terkel's previous books Divided America and Third Class Treason have received international acclaim. Both were best sellers in the U.S. and have been translated into every Western language as well as Hungarian and Japanese. Mr. Terkel graduated from the University of Chicago and from the Chicago Law School. In a widely varied career, he has acted in radio soap operas, been a disk jockey, a sports commentator, a TV man, and has cruised throughout the world doing on-the-spot interviews.

Prior to the luncheon, at 10 a.m., in the Americas Hotel, Georgia Ballroom, the Young Adult Services Division of ALA, will sponsor a program “Present Shock, Youth in the Seventies.” Part I—Issues, will feature speakers Frans Lins, administrator with SIHA, bilingual drug rehabilitation center; Dr. Iris Tietz, assistant director, Division of Adolescent Medicine, Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center; Esther R. Rothman, principal of Livingston School, author of The Angel Inside Your Door; Past Thorne, author of Down These Mean Streets, and Savior, Savior Sold By Hard.

The second part of the “Present Shock” program will resume after the luncheon at 2 p.m. It will focus on Materials, and will feature Mary Louise Birmingham, editor of Books for Young Readers, Praeger Publishers; Isabelle Holland, author of Heads.