

RESOLUTION ON LIBRARY ISSUE CAUCUSES .

Whereas there is deep concern that there be more membership input and involvement in the American Library Association,

Whereas there is a real need by councilors and members to learn more effectively what library issues are and what the facts and opinions regarding the issues are,

Whereas councilors are part of the leadership of the American Library Association and responsible and in a position to listen for, identify and act on issues at the national level for the benefit of libraries and librarians and library users,

Whereas the chapter councilors and councilors-at-large are in a position to effect communication on issues in their respective states, regions or type of library organizations,

Now therefore be it resolved. that chapter councilors and councilors-at-large work together wherever possible to establish library issue caucuses at state library association and type-of-library association meetings with the goal of identifying, developing information and communicating recommendations on library issues to ALA Council and/or other appropriate bodies for consideration.
