

CLS Best Practices Committee Report
January 24, 2009

The Best Practices Committee received an ACRL Action Grant for a program entitled My Accreditation Coach proposed by the Executive Board at Annual Conference. At the committee meeting on Saturday we decided that we would accomplish the following tasks:

1. Develop an area on the CLS wiki to hold information including: a) a bibliography of articles on the subject; develop links to library accreditation standards; develop a list of consultants and the development of a webinar on the subject for the FY 2009-10 year.
2. We are developing a publicity program for the subject, aimed at the deans and directors level, but also to the general ACRL population as well.
3. It was suggested that it might be useful to hold Hot Topic conversations at a variety of conventions to gather information on possible topics to be covered in the webinar.

Items for consideration:

1. If you know of anyone who would be a good speaker on this topic, please let me know. We are looking for more than one.
2. We are also trying to think ahead to the completion of this project and how it will be continued. Does this wiki have a natural home beside the Best Practices Committee?
