FEATURED AUTHOR: ADRIANA TRIGIANI

This June, beloved women's fiction author Adriana Trigiani released Kiss Carlo, a domestic drama where Italian families clash in post-World War II Philadelphia. Although best known for her series and trilogies—including one for young adults—Trigiani has recently forayed into standalone novels set in the early twentieth century. Make sure your library has these Trigiani favorites on hand and recommend to readers who enjoy Elena Ferrante's My Brilliant Friend and Jonathan Franzen's The Corrections.

Kiss Carlo (2017)

All the Stars in the Heavens (2015)

The Supreme Macaroni Company (2013)

The Shoemaker's Wife (2012)

Viola in the Spotlight (2011)

Don't Sing at the Table: Life Lessons from My Grandmothers (2010)

Brava, Valentine (2010)

AUTHOR CHRIS BARTON ON DAZZLE SHIPS AND CREATIVE PROBLEM SOLVING

This year marks the 100th anniversary of the Dazzle Ships nonfiction picture book by Chris Barton and Victo Ngai introduction of dazzle ships in an Allied effort to throw off the aim of the crews on torpedo-carrying German U-boats.

But if you're like me, you never even heard of dazzle ships until relatively recently.

Your first exposure to them may have come through my new book Dazzle Ships: World War I and the Art of Confusion, illustrated by Victo Ngai. Or your introduction may be occurring right now as you read this.

WHAT IS A BOOKLIST ONLINE EXCLUSIVE REVIEW?

Booklist Online exclusive reviews complement Booklist's already extensive print coverage, allowing us both to review some subject areas in greater depth and to weigh in more quickly on titles not released for review in advance of publication. Occasionally, we write new reviews of older books, too, to offer fresh perspective on a familiar work. These titles are recommended, with qualifications as noted, for purchase by public and school libraries; for further information, please consult the Booklist selection policy.
