ALA Video/Library Video Network premieres "Coping With Change" videotape

"Coping With Change," featuring a simple, six-step plan for successfully managing change in libraries, is the latest release from the American Library Association (ALA)/Library Video Network (LVN).

The 20 minute videotape is designed for library managers and supervisors to assist in helping guide their staffs through change. By following the plan, managers and supervisors will understand how change impacts staff and how to help staff cope. Examples of libraries who have made changes work for them are given for each step.

The videotape was designed by a group of library and business executives working with LVN staff. A reproducible discussion guide for use with the tape is provided.

"Coping With Change" is $130 and is available by calling 800-441-TAPE.
