Richard P. Smiraglia named editor of Library Resources & Technical Services

Richard P. Smiraglia, associate professor at the Palmer School of Library and Information Science, Long Island University, has been appointed to a second term as editor of Library Resources & Technical Services (LRTS), a journal of the Association for Library Collections & Technical Services (ALCTS).

Smiraglia has worked at the Columbia University School of Library Science, as head of music cataloging at the University of Illinois Libraries and adjunct faculty member at the Graduate School of Library and Information Science at the University of Illinois.

He has served as chair of the American Library Association (ALA)/ALCTS Committee on Cataloging: Description and Access and has worked for more than 10 years on the development of Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules 2nd ed.

Smiraglia also serves as editor of two monographic series -- the Music Library Association's Technical Reports and the Solider Creed Music (Cataloging) Series. His books include "Origins, Contents and the Future of AACR2 Revised" (1992), "Describing Archival Materials" (1990) and "Music Cataloging" (1989). Smiraglia is currently working on a third edition of "Music Cataloging."

He has a master's degree in library science from Indiana University, Bloomington, and a doctorate from the University of Chicago.

Manuscripts for LRTS should be sent to: Richard P. Smiraglia, C.W. Post Campus, Palmer School of Library and Information Science, Long Island University, Brookville, N.Y. 11548.
