3. Standard Citation Forms (Ann Myers)

The Standard Citations Form editorial group would like your thoughts on a new form for submitting requests for additions to SCF, available here:

<https://rbms.info/scf/submit/>

The group is particularly keen to hear comments on whether the new form is sufficiently self-explanatory. Does it need more introductory text/instruction?

4. Web Resources for the Rare Materials Cataloger (Matthew Ducmanas)

For background, please review the group's report prepared for ALA Annual 2018:

Design options:

"Embedded" version

This would present the directory as a resource within the overall frame of the main RBMS site.

<http://rbms.info/testweb-resources-for-the-rare-materials-cataloger/>

"Stand-alone" version

Similar to the SCF page, this would present the directory on its own site.
