NIL Announces Availability of Application for 2006 Literacy Information and Communication Regional Resource Centers Program

The National Institute for Literacy announced that the application package for the 2006 Literacy Information and Communication Regional Resource Centers program is now available.

The purpose of the Literacy Information and Communication Regional Resource Centers is to provide for the dissemination of resources through partnerships with adult education and related organizations to help practitioners improve adult literacy skills.

Public and private agencies or institutions, or non-profit organizations, with knowledge and expertise in adult basic education and adult literacy are eligible to apply. Approximately $750,000 will be available for funding, and an estimated 2-3 grants will be awarded under this competition. The deadline for applications is September 5, 2006.
