American Library Association,

Organized Oct. 6, 1876;

Incorporated Dec. 10, 1879.

Its purposes are the promotion of library interests, the interchange of experience and opinion, the obtaining of larger results from library labor and expenditure, and the advancement of the profession of librarianship.

The association seeks to develop and strengthen the public library as an essential part of the American educational system. It therefore strives by individual effort of members, and where practicable by local organization, to stimulate public interest in establishing or improving libraries and thus to bring the best reading within the reach of all.

The A. L. A. Handbook of January 1899 included a full list of members to the close of 1898; and various other information concerning the purposes, growth, and work of the association and its allied agencies.

It also contained the A. L. A. Constitution, as adopted at Lakewood in 1892 and ratified at Chicago in 1893; with the further statement that a revision, then under consideration, was expected to receive preliminary action at the ensuing annual meeting.

Pursuant thereto the first vote of adoption was taken during the Atlanta meeting of 1899; and the revised Constitution thus agreed upon is given in the following pages. A second, and final vote of adoption, should be had at the next annual meeting, to be held at Montreal in June 1900. Each recipient of this supplementary handbook will please take notice of that fact.

Secretary.

March 24, 1900.

REVISION OF A. L. A. CONSTITUTION.

[First vote of adoption taken at Atlanta meeting, May 12, 1899. Second vote to be taken at the Montreal meeting in June, 1900.]

Object.

§ 1. The object of the American Library Association shall be to promote the welfare of libraries in America.

Membership.

§ 2. Members and fellows. Any person or institution engaged in library work may become a member or fellow by paying the annual dues, and others after election by the executive board.

§ 3. Honorary members and fellows. On nomination of the council, honorary members may be elected by unanimous vote at any meeting of the association.

§ 4. Life members and fellows. Any individual member may become a life member, exempt from dues, by paying $25. On payment of $100 any individual member may become a life fellow and any institution a perpetual member. An individual life member may become a life fellow on payment of $75.

Endowment Fund.

§ 5. All receipts from life and perpetual memberships and life fellowships, and all gifts for endowment purposes, shall constitute an endowment fund, which shall be invested, and the principal kept forever inviolate. The interest shall be expended as the council may direct. The endowment fund shall be in the custody of three trustees, one of whom shall be elected by ballot at each annual meeting, to hold office for three years from the date of his election and until his successor shall be elected. No money from the endowment fund shall be invested or expended except on check signed by a majority of the trustees.

Management.

§ 6. The business of the association shall be entrusted to the executive board and the council. But the association may, by a three-fourths vote of those present and voting, take direct action, or revise the action of the executive board or council, or give them mandatory instructions.

Officers and Committees.

§ 7. The officers of the association shall be a president, first and second vice-presidents, a secretary, a recorder, and a treasurer, to be elected by ballot at the annual meeting of the association, and to hold office until the adjournment of the meeting at which their successors are elected. These officers, together with the president for the preceding term, shall constitute an executive board, and they shall also serve as officers of the executive board and of the council.

§ 8. President and Vice-presidents. The president shall be the representative head of the association. In case of his death, resignation, or inability to serve, the ranking vice-president shall become president.

§ 9. Secretary. The secretary, subject to the general authority of the president and of the executive board, shall be the active executive officer. He shall be elected first for one year, and upon re-election for a term of three years, and shall have such salary as the council may determine.

§ 10. Recorder. The recorder shall keep a record of the attendance and proceedings at each meeting of the association, council, or executive board.

§ 11. Treasurer. The treasurer shall record all receipts and disbursements, collect dues, pay bills on written order of two members of the finance committee, and make an annual report to the association.

§ 12. Executive board. The executive board shall administer the business affairs of the association, except those entrusted to the council; and it shall have power, in intervals between meetings of the association or of the council, to act on all matters on which those members present at a meeting reach unanimous agreement. The executive board shall appoint from the membership of the association a finance committee of three, and may appoint other committees, assistant officers, and reporters on special subjects. It shall have authority to arrange the program for the annual meeting and to decide upon the presentation and printing of papers and reports.

§ 13. Finance committee. The finance committee shall prepare annual and supplementary budgets, within which appropriations shall be made by the executive board. It shall audit bills and give orders on the treasurer for payment; and no expense shall be incurred on behalf of the association by any officer or committee in excess of the authorized appropriation.

§ 14. Votes by correspondence. Approval in writing by every member of the council or of a board or committee shall have the force of a vote.

Council.

§ 15. Members and votes. The council shall consist of the executive board and 25 members elected by the association, five each year, to hold office for five years.

§ 16. Meetings. The council shall meet at the place of meeting of the association, immediately prior to the annual meeting of the association, and immediately prior to the final session thereof, and also between meetings of the association on call of the executive board or of a majority of the councillors.

§ 17. Duties. The council shall adopt by-laws for the association. It shall nominate officers of the association and trustees of the endowment fund, and shall include on a printed ballot other nominations filed with the secretary by five members of the association 24 hours before the election. It may, by a two-thirds vote, establish sections of the association. It may, by a two-thirds vote, promulgate recommendations of the association relating to library matters, and no resolutions except votes of thanks and on local arrangements shall be otherwise promulgated.

Publishing Board.

§ 18. The publishing board shall consist of five members appointed by the executive board for terms of not more than three years. Its object shall be to secure the preparation and publication of such catalogs, indexes, and other bibliographic and library aids as it may approve.

§ 19. The publishing board shall annually appoint its chairman, secretary, and treasurer.

§ 20. No moneys shall be paid by the treasurer and no work shall be undertaken except by vote of a majority of the whole board.

§ 21. The treasury of the publishing board shall be entirely distinct from that of the association, and the association shall not be liable for any debts incurred by the publishing board. With the approval of the finance committee, money may be appropriated by the executive board from the treasury of the association for the running expenses of the publishing board.

§ 22. The publishing board shall report in print at each annual meeting of the association.

Meetings.

§ 23. Annual meetings. There shall be an annual meeting of the association at such place and time as may be determined by the council.

§ 24. Special meetings. Special meetings of the association may be called by the executive board, and shall be called by the president on request of 20 members of the association. At least one month's notice shall be given, and only business specified in the call shall be transacted.

§ 25. Quorum. Forty members shall constitute a quorum.

Amendments and By-laws.

§ 26. Amendments. This constitution may be amended by a three-fourths vote of those present and voting at two successive meetings of the association, provided that notice of the amendments in their final form be sent to each member of the association at least one month before its final adoption.

A. L. A. NECROLOGY, 1876-1899.

The following list, prepared by Mrs. Henry J. Carr, presents a necrological record of the A. L. A. since its organization, so far as such information has been obtainable.

The intermediate number and year following, in each case (as 15,-1876), is that of accession and year of enrollment, in the numerical registration of the Association. The final date is that of decease; while the figures in parenthesis, just preceding, show the total number of A. L. A. Conferences attended by each.

Some of the persons here listed had relinquished their membership, meanwhile; but a large proportion continued as members until their death. Of the 86 named, 13 attended the Philadelphia Conference of 1876; and 15 are not known to have been present at any conference or meeting of the Association.
