Internet Education Examples Needed!

This Friday, July 20, ALA will be participating in an educational event for Members of Congress on the topic of Internet safety. The purpose of this event is to inform Members of Congress of the kinds of Internet safety education efforts going on in community organizations like libraries, and to encourage them to partner with these organizations in activities like town hall meetings.

We have a request:

As part of our display, we would like to show some of the Internet safety programs going on in libraries across the country. If your library has an active Internet safety program and has a web page about that effort, please send the link to Andy Bridges at abridges@alawash.org. We will be printing and displaying those we receive.

Thank you!
