The Stories We Tell
Representation in Archival Repositories
Mujeres Latinas
Every Woman Has a Story

Saturday, March 5, 2016 from 11:00 AM - 1:00 PM
In the Main Library at The University of Iowa

Join us in the Iowa Women's Archives to learn about the rich history of Latinas, their families, and organizations in Iowa.

- Bring a memento from your past to share with the group
- Learn how to preserve it
- Refreshments will be served

RSVP lib-women@uiowa.edu Questions? 319-335-5068

Presented by the Iowa Women’s Archives & Kirkwood Community College

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa-sponsored events. If you are a person with a disability who requires an accommodation in order to participate in this program, please contact the Iowa Women’s Archives in advance at 319-335-5068.
La Obra de Una Mama memoir by Martina Morado Vallejo, 1950s

Angela and Martina Morado
Horton, Kansas, 1913
(Florence Vallejo Terronez Papers, Iowa Women’s Archives, University of Iowa Libraries)
Left to right: Margaret, Agnes, Florence, Benita, Dorothy, Linda and Josephine Vallejo
(Florence Vallejo Terronez Papers, Iowa Women’s Archives)

Florence Vallejo Terronez and family, UI Libraries, 2012
(Photograph by Matt Butler)
“Lola” Carillo Garcia interviewed for Ain’t I a Woman? – a feminist newspaper series preserved in the Iowa Women’s Archives
Iowa Labor History Oral Project (ILHOP)

Mark Smith,
Iowa Federation of Labor, AFL-CIO

Wullensak Recorder

James Wengert, Iowa Federation of Labor, AFL-CIO
(Iowa Labor Collection, State Historical Society of Iowa, Iowa City)
Katz Drug Store Boycott, Des Moines, 1948

Robert Jackson, Sr.
(Interviewed for ILHOP, Iowa Labor Collection, State Historical Society of Iowa, Iowa City)

Edna Griffin
(Edna Griffin Papers, Iowa Women’s Archives)
Mariana Ramirez interviewing her mother
(Iowa Labor Collection, State Historical Society of Iowa, Iowa City, photographs by John McKerley, president, Iowa Labor History Society)
Mary Louise Smith & Louise Noun
(Iowa Women’s Archives)
MUJERES LATINAS PROJECT

Rachel Garza Carreón, Fort Madison (center)

Teresa García, Mason City

Georgina Buendía-Cruz, Williamsburg
League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC)

Iowa LULAC members at the national LULAC convention, Washington DC, 2016

Roger Rocha, Jr., national LULAC president, visits the Iowa Women’s Archives, 2015