The Career of Library Educator will be the theme of a program sponsored by the Teachers Section of the Library Education Division, on Monday, July 8, during the Annual Conference of the American Library Association in New York City, the week of July 7 - 13, 1974. The program will be aimed particularly at younger practicing librarians interested in possible careers in library education and will be directed toward careers at all levels in the education of library personnel, both professional and supportive.

The program will have four parts: part I - The Role of the Teacher in a Professional School featuring Dr. Mario G. Salvadori, James Renwick Professor of Civil Engineering and Professor of Architecture, Columbia University; part II - Getting Started in Library Education - Dr. Russell E. Bidlack, Dean, School of Library Science, University of Michigan; part III - The Career of Library Educator-- Views from the Ranks - six younger library educators representing a range of specializations, schools, etc., moderated by Dr. Jane Robbins, Division of Librarianship, Emory University.

The program will be concluded with part IV, including audience questions and comments. The chairman of the program is Dr. Thomas Galvin, School of Library Science at Simmons College in Boston.
