

BEYOND WORDS

CELEBRATING

AMERICA'S

LIBRARIES

PHOTO CONTEST

Beyond Words' 2010 contest celebrated libraries that have gone beyond the printed word to create vibrant, multi-media environments. Photographers, videographers and artists were invited to submit photographs that demonstrate the best of what their libraries have to offer and how they are making a difference in the lives of readers. The winning photographs are now featured here, around us all day.

Photographs chosen for the contest were submitted by photographers, videographers and artists from across the country. The winning photographs are now featured here, around us all day.
