

Policy, Politics, & International Relations Section
Association of College & Research Libraries, a division of the American Library Association

Governance Procedures of the Politics, Policy, and International Relations Section

Accepted January 16, 2010; Revised May 2017

A. Name

The name of the organization shall be the Politics, Policy, and International Relations Section (PPIRS) of the Association of College and Research Libraries, a division of the American Library Association, hereinafter referred to as the Section.

B. Purpose

ACRL Sections are established primarily for the purpose of building communities of learning and providing professional development and networking opportunities for their members. A Section's name, purpose, and mission are as proposed by the Section and approved by the ACRL Board. The ACRL Board ascertains that overlaps between the mandates of various Sections are minimized.

PPIRS shall represent librarians in the fields of political science, international relations, public policy, law, and related disciplines. It will act for ACRL in cooperation with other professional groups in regard to those aspects of library service that require special knowledge of these fields.

C. Membership

Any member of the Association of College and Research Libraries may elect membership in this Section. Every personal member has the right to vote and is eligible to hold office.

D. Relationship to ACRL Board

The Board's liaison role to PPIRS is to provide a critical connection between membership structures and the ACRL Board of Directors. This liaison role can be particularly helpful in providing perspective, guidance, and insight regarding ACRL policies, procedures, and initiatives; and providing helpful advice regarding proposals. The liaison relationship is meant to enhance communication; it is not an advocacy role and for that reason Board members are asked to liaison with sections in which they have not been active.

The Board of Directors is the voice for the association. Sections, committees, and other established units are not authorized to speak for the association except through the Board. PPIRS will refrain from issuing statements, taking positions, or endorsing any statements or positions except with Board approval.

E. Meetings

The Section shall hold an annual meeting at the time and place of the Annual Conference of the American Library Association. Other meetings may be called at the discretion of the Executive Committee. Ten members constitute a quorum for any meeting of the Section. All meetings are conducted in accordance with the policies of ACRL and ALA.

Section meetings at the ALA Midwinter Meeting and ALA Annual Conference are scheduled by the Section chair.

The ALA Policy Manual 7.4.1 defines a meeting as “an official assembly, for any length of time following a designated starting time, of the members of any board, committee task force, commission, etc., during which the members do not separate except for a recess and in which the assembly has the capacity to formalize decisions.” Conference calls, Internet chat sessions (and their equivalents), and in-person meetings are recognized as meetings subject to the open meetings policy (ALA Policy 7.4.4). Committees must confirm all decisions made in these forums by affirming the actions at the next face-to-face meeting.

There is a distinction between carrying on work of a committee electronically and conducting an electronic meeting. Asynchronous electronic discussions by electronic mail or other asynchronous communication methods do not constitute meetings because they are not an official assembly with a designated starting time (ALA Policy Manual 7.4.1).

The Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure (Alice Sturgis) applies to meetings of the Section to the extent that it is applicable, upholds the integrity of the voting processes, helps facilitate progress, and ensures equality, fairness, and common sense.
